

CANNOT LAND CABLE AT MIAMI WITHOUT EXECUTIVE PERMIT

Government Will Prevent Completion of Western Union Line from Barbados Until Terms of Agreement with British Company Are Made Known—Looks Askance at Monopoly Possibility.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(By The Associated Press.)—Five destroyers are patrolling the entrance to Miami, Fla., harbor, under orders from President Wilson to prevent by force, if necessary, the landing of a cable the Western Union Telegraph Company is having laid from Barbados, a British possession in the West Indies.

A British cable ship, the Colonia, has been chartered by the Western Union Company to land the American end of the cable which would connect with a British cable line from Barbados to South America. At the state department it was stated today that the British embassy had been asked to inform the master of the ship that such a landing would be in violation of American law.

Officials explained there was no significance in the fact that the vessel was British; that she probably was the only cable craft available to the American company when she was chartered. Work on the cable line from Barbados was begun last summer.

Permit Delayed

Some time ago the Western Union Company applied for an executive permit to land the wire at Miami but officials said action on it had been delayed pending the holding of the international communications congress in Washington September 15.

A British cable company, it was explained, now has a monopoly of cable rights in Brazilian waters. An American concern desires to construct a direct cable line from the United States and it was stated the American government desired to know before issuing the permit whether the arrangement entered into by the company with the British concern, the Western Cable Company, controlling the line from Barbados to Brazil, would add to this monopoly.

In this connection, it was asserted that the forthcoming international communications congress, the whole theory of international communications was to be examined in a "very different temperament" from that existing in the past.

There were reports today that after the Western Union company filed its application for a permit the state department requested that a copy of the contract with the British cable concern also be filed and that the company had refused to comply. No information as to this was obtainable at the department.

Means Direct Line to Brazil

While there is a direct cable line between the United States and the Pacific coast of South America, cable communication between this country and Brazil is possible now only by way of London, unless the messages are sent to the west coast and relayed. A direct cable line to Brazil, officials said, is much preferred.

Some officials expressed doubt today whether there was a law requiring permits for the landing of cables in the United States but state department officials declared there was such a law. The orders were issued it was said after reports had reached the government that the company planned to complete connection of the line. It was announced that the destroyers had instructions to use any means necessary to prevent the landing of the cable.

Admiral Decker, commandant at Key West, is in command, but Secretary Daniels said he would be replaced by his senior, Rear-Admiral Anderson, commandant at Charleston, S. C.

British Vice-Consul Told to Disregard Orders

Miami, Fla., Aug. 4.—While United States destroyers lay off this port today instructions from the British embassy at Washington were received by British Vice-Consul Hubbard to direct the captain of the cable layer Colonia upon her arrival to disregard his orders from the Western Union Telegraph Company as to landing cable.

The Colonia is expected to arrive here from Newport News tomorrow and orders issued to her captain are understood to direct the beginning of work at once on landing the cable working at first beyond the three mile limit.

Local Western Union officials denied any knowledge of the decision of the government to hold up landing of the cable.

The Colonia is said here to be carrying also equipment for a submarine telephone cable to be laid between Key West and Havana. This project it is stated here also has not received the approval of the United States government.

STATE UTILITIES COMMISSION RULES ON COAL SHIPMENTS

Must Not Be Reconsign After Reaching Its Destination

DEALERS HAVE STORMY WINTER IN PROSPECT

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The state public utilities commission today issued an order forbidding reconsignment of cars of coal on railroads in Illinois after they have reached their destination. The order also provides that on each car of coal the roads shall charge $10 for each day that the car is allowed to be held beyond the free time allowed by railroads. This charge will be in addition to the regular demurrage rates.

No date was set as to when the order will be effective.

Reports to the Illinois Mine Operators' association today were very favorable officials said and indicated that all mines in the state would be in operation by the end of the week. Officials of the Illinois Manufacturers' association said that although many industries still were suffering from the effects of the strike none had yet appealed for help.

NEW RATES WILL INVALIDATE TICKETS

Interstate Commerce Commission Says Tickets and Mileage Books Purchased Before High Rates Will Not Be Good.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Return tickets and mileage books bought before the higher fares allowed railroads last Saturday became effective will not be valid when the new schedules go into effect, it was said today by the interstate commerce commission.

How the commission will handle the problem of tickets purchased before the new fares are made operative is now being worked out, it was said. It was emphasized, however, that travel for the present prices would not be permitted after the effective date of the new levels.

An order is expected permitting the railroads to refund the amount paid for return coupons or unused mileage and commutation books that passengers will be allowed to use them on payment of the additional charges authorized. Unless some such method is adopted, it was pointed out that tickets could be purchased for future use in large quantities which would result in postponing the effective day of the higher rates.

PONZI PAYS OFF AS FAST AS THEY COME

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—Charles Ponzi, whose offer of fifty per cent return on investments in ninety days has resulted in federal and state investigations declined today the suggestion of Attorney General Allen that the state conduct an investigation to determine his assets. The audit now being made by federal authorities is for disclosing his liabilities.

"There is no law which can force me to show all my assets," Ponzi asserted, "show me my liabilities and I'll show enough cash to cover them."

The offices of the Securities Exchange company, conducted by Ponzi, continued through the day to honor all notes presented. At the end of the eighth day the run appeared to have reached the end.

Holders of notes were paid off today at the rate of sixty an hour. No statements were given out by any of the authorities working on the case.

CHARGES MADE BY LEWIS AND HOWAT IN TELEGRAMS

Two Miners' Leaders in Wordy Controversy

LAY STRIKE BLAME ON EACH OTHER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 4.—President Wilson has expressed to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America his gratification over the prompt action taken by Mr. Lewis in directing the striking coal miners of Illinois and Indiana to return to work. Today President Lewis sent telegram to thirty local unions in Kansas ordering the striking miners there to return to work. According to Mr. Lewis 3,338 miners are on strike in the Kansas fields.

In his telegram President Lewis declared the strikes are in violation of a contract with the Southern Coal Operators' association.

Mr. Lewis also sent a telegram to Alexander Howat, sharply taking him to task for fostering the trouble in the Kansas field. In his message Lewis declared Howat had made no attempt to settle the strike in that state as provided in the contract with the operators and he warns him he must comply with the laws of the state and is in conformity with the entire Indiana field was at work today it was reported.

HOWAT MAKES INDIGNANT REPLY

Pittsburg, Kans., Aug. 4.—Alexander M. Howat, president of the Kansas mine workers' union tonight sent a telegram to John L. Lewis, president of the international union, refusing to abide by instructions received from Lewis today that striking coal miners in Kansas return to work immediately. In his reply Howat says:

"The cowardly insinuation you have made that I have called the miners on strike at this time is without the least semblance of truth and is in conformity with many other statements you have made. Had you stood firmly in defense of the mine workers last winter when they were making such a noble fight as you are standing in defense of the operators at this time there would have been no occasion for the Illinois and Indiana mine workers to cease work to secure another increase in wages."

"You speak of demagogues. I know of no man who is more of a demagogue than you. I am ready to compare my record with yours at any time."

"Your telegram is a cowardly insult and unworthy of a gentleman and a man and it shall receive no consideration at my hands. I have no confidence in you. I have not violated the laws of our organization and as far as I am concerned you may proceed to do your worst, but during the time I am president of the district, regardless of you and all other opposition, I am going to continue to stand for what I believe is right in behalf of the men."

ARMY MAN SPENDS SEVENTEEN MONTHS IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Corp. Arthur Prince, 339 Infantry is Enroute Home

WOUNDED AND CAPTURED BY BOLSHIEVIKI

VIBOURG, Finland, Aug. 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—After seventeen months in Soviet Russia, where he was twice wounded and captured by the Bolsheviks on the Archangel front on March 1, 1919, Corporal Arthur Prince of the 339th United States Infantry, arrived at the Finnish frontier yesterday. On the train with Prince, whose home is Detroit, came 300 French, Danish and Swedish refugees from Russia who are being repatriated.

Prince was one of four Americans sent out on this train by the Bolshevik authorities at Moscow. Among them were two correspondents who crossed Russia from Vladivostok and Miss Saremen, of New York City, a refugee from Samara.

Thirty other Americans who have gathered at Moscow are waiting for permission to leave the country. All are anxious for the American government to take steps for their release.

In tattered clothing and worn shoes given him by Americans in Moscow, a cripple from his wounds and a broken leg improperly treated, and suffering as a result of fourteen months of scant diet in Russian hospitals, Corporal Prince has entered quarantine camp on the Finnish frontier.

Seventeen months ago while traversing frozen north Russia 250 miles southeast of Archangel, over a snow shoe trail four feet deep in snow, Prince and his patrol of seven Americans were ambushed by the Bolsheviks. Prince was hit in the knee and his leg broken at the hip, while another bullet struck him in the side. He was captured and taken on a 250 peris trip by sleigh requiring five days in zero weather to Kotlas. No Americans knew of his presence in Russia until more than a year later when Prince recovered sufficiently to go to the Bolshevik foreign office and ask how to get home, when the Americans in Moscow learned of his presence. From Kotlas he was removed to Kostroma, in middle Russia, where he underwent seven months of intense suffering and three operations necessitated by the attempts of the Russian surgeons to treat his broken leg.

Sent to Concentration Camp No. 28, Prince was held there until September 23 last. Prince was sent as a prisoner to the Tula concentration camp, composed of anti-Bolshevik prisoners. Here his wounds suppurated afresh, necessitating his again going into a hospital. There he remained for a month when he was transferred to Moscow 120 miles to the north. At Moscow, Prince says he experienced the worst suffering of his stay in Russia. The hospital was heated only two hours daily, there were untrained nurses and only a few doctors and also a shortage of medicines. The food conditions were bad. In company with an English Jew, a Bolshevik soldier who had been wounded, Prince later went to an international hospital maintained by Hungarians in Moscow from which he was released May 22. Then he was taken to a home formerly maintained by the British in Moscow and under the better treatment and food he improved.

This movement will be in the nature of a prelude to a campaign throughout the large steel making centers. It was announced at the close of a session of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor tonight. It was said the question of free speech and right of assembly probably would be put up to the presidential nominee as well as the congressional candidates in all steel-making states.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation declared there was no possibility of a steel strike coincident with the movement.

EMBARGO THREATENED ON R. R. EQUIPMENT

Such Action Recommended Commission on Car Service—Would Eliminate Switching.

Washington, Aug. 4.—An embargo on all classes of railroad equipment in intracity movement as a means of relieving terminal congestion was recommended today to the railroad managers by the commission on car service of the American railroad association.

In a circular to the railways the commission on car service pointed out that such an embargo would eliminate switching and increase the car supply for road-haul shipments.

A permit system should be inaugurated, the circular continued, to protect the movement of such freight as cannot be handled by truck.

The embargo should, so far as practicable, be absolute against the use of coal cars in cross town movement, the circular said.

U. S. CITIZENS SEE PEACE AT HOME AS THE GREAT NEED

Harding Takes Rap at Article Ten in League Plan

CANDIDATE TO ADHERE TO FRONT PORCH PLAN

MARION, O., Aug. 4.—Striking at article ten as a menace to tranquility relations among American citizens, Senator Harding declared in a front porch speech today that if he had to choose, he "would rather have industrial and social peace at one than command the international peace of the world."

"It is folly," he said, "to think of blending Greek and Bulgarian, Italian and Slav, or making any of them rejoicingly American, when the land of adoption sits in judgment on the land from which he came."

"We need to be rescued from the visionary and fruitless pursuit of peace thru super-government. I do not want Americans of foreign birth making their party alignments on what we mean to do for some nation in the old world. Our need is concord, not the antipathies of long inheritance."

Porch Plan to Continue.

The speech was delivered to a delegation from Wayne county, O. In conference with another group of callers earlier in the day, the nominee declared his adherence to the front porch campaign policy and indicated he expected to make no speeches away from Marion until October. He declined an invitation to address the West Virginia Republican club August 12 and said he was well satisfied with the progress of his program of speeches here.

It was said at his headquarters that his position would not suspend tentative plans under consideration for speaking trips later and that some definite decision might be expected at the conference of Republican chiefs in New York tomorrow.

Senator Harding saw many callers today. Among them were Mrs. Abbey Scott Baker of the National Woman's party, who asked for more help to secure ratification of the suffrage amendment and Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League who said he only came to pay a personal call.

Suffrage Leader Pleased

Mrs. Baker said she was well pleased and had been promised definite action toward securing a favorable vote by the Tennessee legislature.

Tomorrow Senator Harding will receive a delegation from Ohio State University but he does not intend to make a speech. Besides this delegation, only two others have been definitely announced and today one of these, a group of pottery workers from East Liverpool, Ohio, postponed its engagement because of inability to secure reduced railway rates. The remaining date is September 25, when a speech will be made from the front porch to the American Defense society.

ROAD BETTERMENTS COST HEAVILY.

Horrih township in Williamson county, down in the southern part of the state, has by a six to one vote declared in favor of a $70,000 bond issue for the building of hard roads.

This fact has been used to give Herrin some favorable publicity, but when it is remembered that some contracts for hard roads have been let at the cost of $50,000 a mile, it is apparent that the bond issue is not providing for any very extensive amount of improvement.

CHAMP CLARK'S POPULARITY.

Whatever else may be said of Champ Clark, it must be admitted that his popularity in his home state continues. The Missouriian has just been nominated for congress in the 9th district for the 15th time and that without opposition. There is every reason to suppose that he will be re-elected in November and by such an election will complete his 30th year in congress.

There are some abler men than Champ Clark, few more popular and the number able to maintain party leadership thru so long a period is still less.

PEACE, PEACE AND THERE IS NO PEACE.

In the discussion of the league of nations and its possibilities its sponsors must meet the present embarrassment of the appalling situation in Poland. Nothing in the league program can seemingly be invoked to put an end to the bloody warfare between the Russian Bolsheviks and the Poles. This is only one of a number of bloody wars in progress.

If the U. S. had taken its place in the league in accordance with the Wilson arrangements, today this country would be a party to those warfare and under the necessity of sending troops.

THE PONZI METHOD.

Ponzi, the financial wizard, thus far has been able to meet all demands from frightened depositors and is paying them back their money just as rapidly as he can sign checks. Much to the surprise of government officials who are investigating Ponzi's financial affairs, he "keeps smiling."

The government had better find out the secret of his method of handling foreign exchange, by which he claims to have made millions in a few months' time. If its legitimate Uncle Sam might well embark in the business on his own account and apply the profits to some of the government departments where deficits exist.

THE PROOF FROM FIGURES.

Those persons who have accounted the adoption of the 18th amendment as the result of a spasm of feeling or enthusiasm by people of the U. S. should read an editorial in this column, taken from the Globe Democrat, under the caption, "Temperance led to prohibition." This article is an unbiased discussion of the facts. It shows from government records that prohibition came about as a growth thru the years. It gives the proof that as temperance was fostered in this country for commercial and industrial reasons so eventually the more moderate use of liquor led to adoption of a prohibition policy by the action of 45 states.

CHILDREN INTERPRET CITY LIFE.

If anyone doubted the worth of the movement which brought a number of Chicago children to this country for a two weeks' outing the presence of the children has dispelled that feeling. Some of the group are not more than four years old and they give signs of the keenness of their enjoyment that are in some instances really pathetic. More than one story of how a child's frankness and has fallen upon sympathetic ears. There is a meaning in the very way that some of these children "go after" the meals that are prepared for them by their entertainers.

Many of the children never before saw a tree. To some of them grass was an unknown thing, and as for cows and some other domestic animals, they have not known that such creatures existed.

The Chicago children in Morgan county are being well cared for and to many people they have brought a new understanding of the limitations and privations of life in the poorer district of a great city.

TEMPERANCE BROUGHT PROHIBITION.

(From the St. Louis Globe.) Some interesting figures that explain much more truly the reason why the eighteenth amendment passed congress and was ratified by forty-five states than the assertion that it was rushed thru under pressure while the young men of the country were fighting for democracy in France are given in the Statistical Abstract of the United States in its last volume. From this we learn that there was a gradual but large reduction in both the total and the per capita consumption of beer, wine and distilled liquors year by year from 1914 to 1919.

The year 1914 was the peak of intoxicating beverage drinking in the United States. That year the total consumption of all liquors was 2,252,420,461 gallons, or a per capita consumption of 22.50 gallons. The total and per capita both began to decline each year, with the exception that both were a trifle larger in 1917 than in 1916, in spite of the fact that so many were in the army and were denied indulgence. The total of 1917 was 2,095,535,095 gallons and the per capita 19.95. In 1918, when we had the largest number of soldiers in France and in camps in this country, the total was 1,701,827,271 and the per capita 15.95.

The theory that this decline was due to the absence of so many of the young men is promptly negated by the figures of the following year, ending June 30, 1919, during which time, or a large part of it, all but a few were back again in this country. During the last year of open consumption the decline was tremendous, in spite of the fact that war prohibition was known to be coming long in advance and drinking in anticipation of it was supposed to have been stimulated. The total consumption that year was only 992,294,720 gallons, less than half that of but six years before, and the per capita was but 9.17 gallons, a still greater decline.

Thus we find that when the people of the United States thru their constitutional channels amended the constitution to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages, they had voluntarily and thru perfectly natural processes reduced the volume of their consumption of such beverages 58 per cent in six years. This alone shows why the cutting off of the other 42 per cent by war time prohibition, followed by the taking effect of the amendment, created so little trouble and friction. The people had been voluntarily traveling in that direction at a rapid rate.

These figures reveal what all those observers knew at the time, that industrial, commercial and social influences were rapidly making the United States temperate. For a number of years industry after industry, following the initial action of the railroads, put a ban upon drinking by the employees as a matter of safety and efficiency. In commercial and professional life the same ban was being placed, if not absolutely by orders, then actively in practice by the rapid advancement of the drinkers and employment only of sober and reliable men. The United States industrially and commercially, professionally and socially, was driving John Barleycorn out of the life of the nation.

Rippling Rhymes By Wait Mason

SUMMER MONTHS

July's a month that makes me sad, while on my errands trotting; the air is hot, the flies are bad, and I'm kept busy swatting. Tho August fills our souls with grief, we yet may all remember a few short weeks will bring relief. The next month is September. But in July no kindly thought of that sort soothes the spirit; for August will be twice as hot, and so we dread and fear it. And as we drink our bitter cup, and chase the bugs that bit us, we say to friends, "Cheer up! Cheer up! The worst is yet to hit us!" By day I plod with weary tread along the streets a-buzzing, and sleepless spend the night in bed, all kinds of thunder raising. And when I rise at six o'clock I feel like those poor critters who've lived for weeks on private stock, or home brewed brands of bitters. I drool and gibber as I slide to get a bromo seltzer; in winter Hope walks by my side, but summer comes and melts her. The heat's so hot it cooks the trees and all the fruit is rotting, and I get on my hands and knees to do my daily swatting. It is no use to look ahead to Autumn's frosts that dazzle; before they come we'll all be dead, and roasted to a frazzle.

Hundreds attended the second annual burgoon given by the Ladies' Aid society of Durbin church Wednesday. Tho the roads were dusty they were in fine condition otherwise and many motored to Durbin some time during the day or evening.

A representative of the Western Electric company kindly installed one of the company's plants manufactured for country use and the grounds were brilliantly lighted Wednesday evening and also Tuesday evening while the soup and meats were in process of preparation. This greatly aided the workers.

Congressman Henry T. Rainey delivered the main address of the day and was heard with close attention. Addresses also were given by Hugh Green, Carl E. Robinson and the Rev. Mr. Harris. The Woodson band furnished excellent music day and night.

The soup was made by Joseph Barnhart of Lynnville, while Rev. W. E. Spoonst of this city had charge of the barbecuing the meat. Both were excellent and large quantities were disposed of during the day and evening.

Mrs. Sadie Darley is president of the Aid society and all of the members united in working for the success of the affair and their efforts were well rewarded. They will realize a goodly sum for the church.

SHOCK ABSORBERS FOR FALSE TEETH

Cleveland, Apr. 2.—Non-Skid Shock Absorbers for false teeth are the latest thing. Heretofore the principle of shock absorbers has been limited in application but now a Cleveland chemical concern advertises a powder which sprinkled upon "store teeth" forms a smooth cushion, holds them firmly in place, and gives a "non-skid" effect while they romp over the toughest roasting ears of corn and chew the stickiest candy.

One who has lost his natural teeth can supply himself with this antiseptic, adhesive comfort powder—Corga—at a drug store, and proceed to laugh and sneeze, crack nuts and do other hazardous things without risk of shaking his prized false teeth from their upper and lower berths. 35c at Druggists.—Adv.

local Democratic picnic. Speaking from a roped arena and avoiding definite issues, he declared he would carry the offensive in "a considerable fight" for which he predicted success.

"Incidentally he promised that his address Saturday accepting the nomination could be understood 'even by school children.' 'Boys, I'm ready for the fight,' he declared. 'We need no defense. Ques will be the offensive fight from the beginning to the end and it will be a considerable fight. Make no mistake about that. I have the faith in me that there will be triumph of right principles this fall which will serve notice to Republican leaders for years to come. I was about to say that it would be a Democratic triumph. It would be that. It will be a victory in the partisan sense. It will be a triumph of the right. Turning upon his opponents, the governor continued:

"We've won before in the same kind of a fight. We'll win again because we're right. The opposition has been good to us, and the advantage that it has given will be recounted in the stirring days ahead of us. The opposition apparently has adopted the course of doing what we farmers used to do—of ploughing around the stump, of seeking to avoid the things that perplex.

It is, with the opposition, expediency pure and simple. They attempt to appeal to this group that group and other groups without the slightest consideration of the great menace thereby to the perpetuity of our government. Our course is the straight course."

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 4.—A ticket for state officers, "suggested" for the guidance of the electors, was agreed upon by the party leaders at the final session of the unofficial Democratic state convention here today. The proceedings were unusually harmonious. The only serious object to the program prepared by the leaders of Tammany Hall and the upstate organization came from Mayor George R. Lunn of Schenectady an avowed candidate for the United States senator who left the convention before it had finished its business today. His efforts for the elimination of a plank declaring for a modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act would define intoxicating beverages to permit the traffic in beer of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content failed.

The platform does not mention the league of nations and other national issues, altho there was a blanket endorsement of the platform adopted by the National convention at San Francisco. SHIPPING BOARD MUST SOLVE BIG PROBLEM Disposal of More Than 1,500,000 Tons of Wooden Shipping Is One of Difficult Problems Facing Shipping Board.

Washington—Disposal of more than 1,500,000 tons of wooden shipping—406 vessels of various types—built as a part of the government's war time merchant marine program is one of the most difficult problems facing the Shipping Board. Twenty-one of the craft, aggregating $2,000 deadweight tons, were offered recently, but no buyers were found.

Only 194 of these wooden craft are now in operation. Seventy-three are tied up at various ports under managing caretakers and 139 are in storage yards. One hundred and seven of those in "storage" are finished hulls while 32 are converted barges.

Officials of the board say that when the serviceability of the wooden fleet has been demonstrated little difficulty will be experienced in turning it over to private ownership at about $90 a ton. These vessels were built in an emergency, many of green timber, and some of them made poor showings a year and two years ago but now that they have "seasoned" officers of the board consider them practicable cargo carriers.

Because of the bad record of some of the vessels operators have condemned them all, officials declare, whereas, the records of those now in operation show very creditable performances. One wooden ship out of six round trips across the Atlantic, at sea 500 days and in port an equal number, was laid up for repairs only 22 days.

To date 532 wooden and composite ships, aggregating 1,948,250 deadweight tons, consisting of 322 cargo ships, on tanker, 115 finished hulls, ten sailing craft, 56 hulls converted into barges and 20 standard barges have been delivered to the board. A total of 2,742,245 deadweight tons, has been lost and 12,000 tons of cargo have been lost at sea.

The total cost of the construction of this fleet, estimated by the board at $170 a deadweight ton, was approximately $333,000,000. Of the 1,500,000 tons now held by the board at $90 a ton would yield $135,000,000. These already sold brought about $33,000,000 so that if the 443 remaining in the government's possession are disposed of to private owners he total loss through the wooden ship venture would be something like $179,000,000.

When you erect a monument you are erecting something to stand not for a year or two but for years and years—then you must get the best. Balfour Pink has stood this test.

"In the year 1766, near what are now the quarries of the Harris Granite Quarries Company, the home of BALFOUR PINK GRANITE, one Michael Braun built a granite house. Today the house stands intact, the pink granite retaining its true color, and we must marvel even more at the qualities of that granite which have enabled it to withstand the successive seasons of heat and frost without deterioration."

RETURNS AFTER LONG PERIOD OVERSEAS

Miss Margaret K. Moore Spent Sixteen Months in Y. W. C. A. Service at Coblenz — Talks in Interesting Vein of European Conditions.

To spend sixteen months in war work overseas has been the lot of Miss Margaret King Moore, who returned to Jacksonville yesterday and is at her home, 856 West State street. For the greater part of the period mentioned Miss Moore has been at the Y. W. C. A. hostess house in Coblenz, Germany, in charge since last August. It was largely because of Miss Moore's familiarity with the German language that she was assigned to duty in Coblenz, for a knowledge of the language was almost indispensable. During the war period Miss Moore resigned her position with the faculty of Westminster college at Salt Lake City to enter Y. W. C. A. work and her first assignment was at the hostess house at Camp Funston, where she was located for a number of months. The work there was preparatory to the larger duties overseas.

The work of the Y. W. C. A. is to continue at Coblenz for some further period, but after sixteen months Miss Moore felt that she has done her fair share and sought release.

The Jacksonville young woman sailed from Antwerp on the transport Princess Matoika. It is interesting to note in this connection that the ship was formerly a North German Lloyd liner which came into possession of the U. S. as one of the results of the war.

Thru Kiel Canal. The route home was lengthy as the vessel went from Antwerp to Danzig, passing thru the Kiel canal made the more historic by the war period. This route was followed because the transport was taking on a large number of troops and brought to American shores 2,800 Polish-American soldiers. There were also 40 or more soldiers and their wives and the great ship brought besides the bodies of 1,800 Americans who died overseas.

In conversation last night Miss Moore made some brief references to conditions overseas: "Our hostess house at Coblenz was maintained particularly for the American and English women in army. Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., and Y. W. C. A. work. There were 75 usually living there. This does not mean of course that the house was maintained solely for these women, for while there were numerous allied troops in that area it frequently happened that we served 1,000 meals a day to soldiers. The other functions of the hostess house were very similar to those which obtained at the cantonments here in the U. S.

"There are now 8,000 American troops in the Coblenz area and while it is not my province to be a critic, I sincerely hope that they will not be kept there long. The duties are light and the surroundings are not such as make for better manhood. We had little trouble with supplies for the hostess house as most of them were purchased from the commissary at prices which were made possible because of the large stocks that the government had purchased on favorable terms. The greatest difficulty was in figuring the rate of exchange, which constantly varied. It was only during recent months that we were allowed to do business with German banks, and that made the financial task easier. There was usually a certain period of the month when the time was opportune for buying from an exchange standpoint, and it was one of my duties to give this matter of finance attention.

"The increase in the value of the German mark in recent weeks has been phenomenal. For a time the mark was only worth about 10 cents, but recently it has doubled and tripled in value, with indications that it will not be long until it approaches still nearer the normal value.

Germans Not Conquered. "From what contact I had with German people I do not believe that they entertain any marked enmity toward the people of the U. S. for participation in the war. The feeling is not nearly as strong against either Americans or English as it is against the French, their ancient enemies. It is true that the German people do not feel that they lost the war or that they were defeated. They consider that a cessation of hostilities was a matter of policy. There is the feeling, too, that there will be another war some day and it is an error to suppose that the spirit of the German people has been broken.

"Industrially and commercially conditions are fast getting back to pre-war status. The people in Germany are working steadily and naturally the conditions are much better there than in France, because Germany did not suffer the war-time exhaustion that was true of France. It is said that there are parts of Germany where it is still difficult to get food and that prices are abnormally high. In referring to our own supplies a moment ago I might have mentioned that all thru the year we were buying sugar at 36 a pound, and some of the necessities at much lower prices than I understand have prevailed here at home. Fresh milk was one of the things that I saw no possible to secure and I saw no fresh milk or cream during all my stay abroad. It is not possible to secure it except on a doctor's certificate for families where there are infants or little children.

Belgium Recovering Rapidly. "Comparing conditions in Belgium and France, one finds that the Belgians are making much more rapid strides in reconstruction work. The reasons are that the people are more industrious and frugal. Belgium is thus far taking no peace chances and a standing army of good size is being maintained.

Miss Moore said: "I heard little discussion of the peace league among the people with whom I came in contact, but I did find great surprise and regret that the U. S. had not concluded peace. It was noticeable that the earlier resentment against the people of the U. S. on this account had given way to feeling against President Wilson, as the people seemed to get the idea that their earlier view of the situation here was incorrect.

"I believe that these Americans who have been overseas and somewhat in touch with people and conditions, for the most part feel that those statesmen who insist upon certain reservations for the protection of the U. S. in any peace league plan have the best of the argument. There are several bloody struggles now in progress on the continent and one cannot but view with apprehension the present struggle between the Bolsheviks of Russia and the Polish people. If the Russians are victorious and push on into Germany it is likely that certain elements there will unite with them and no one can foresee into just what sort of malestrom the European countries may again be plunged.

Miss Moore expects to spend the next few months at the Y. W. C. A. work in St. Louis, where she has enjoyed service abroad, and she goes without saying that she is glad to be once more in her home city.

MISS KENNEDY WEDS CLARENCE RATAICHAK

Ceremony Held at Home of the Bride's Parents Wednesday Evening — Will Reside in Springfield

At eight o'clock Wednesday evening occurred the wedding of Miss Mamie Augusta Kennedy to Mr. Clarence Wesley Rataichak. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, 1335 West Lafayette avenue, Dr. Dr. Joseph R. Harker, president of Illinois Womans college, read the service, using the double ring ceremony.

Miss Hazel Claus, a cousin of the groom played "O Promise Me," "Narcissus" and "To a Wild Rose." Then to the stately music of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride and groom, attended by Miss Marian Sipple, of Pekin, and Mr. Roger Carter, came down the stairway, which was festooned with fern sprays. They were met by Dr. Harker, who led the party into the living room. The ceremony was performed against the background of ornate high and relieved by clusters of hydrangea.

During the service, Miss Claus played softly, adding much to the dignity and solemnity. At the close of the ceremony, the bride's cake was cut, and luncheon served. Ruby Baxter received the ring, Emmett Miller the darning needle, James Edward Potter the thimble. The bride was lovely in a gown of sheerest white organdie and lace over satin, with a soft, beaded sash. She wore a bar pin of pearls and sapphires, the gift of the groom and carried the handkerchief that her mother carried 33 years ago. The filmy veil was caught with tiny white hair, and she carried a shower bouquet of white rosebuds in green leaves and ferns.

She graduated from the academy of Illinois Womans college in 1916 and received both the bachelors degree and a diploma in expression in 1920. "PUSSYFOOT" JOHNSON

The other day the mayor of a Wisconsin city challenged William E. Johnson—Pussyfoot—to debate with him on the subject of the latest constitutional amendment.

And this is part of what he got by telegram: "I have your telegram challenging me to debate the constitution which you have the sublime nerve to attack in the name of Americanism. The eighteenth amendment is a part of the constitution, which you in taking office as mayor, swore to defend. Instead of defending it you attack it. I would not be found dead on any platform with a man who treats his oath of office as a scrap of paper, as you do. Go 'way back and sit down."

Mr. Johnson's spectacular career in England last winter made him an international character. Newspapers and magazines all over the world headlined Johnson and his doings in the tight little island. It was a rare streak of good fortune which enabled the chautauqua to secure him for a lecture and give its patrons the opportunity to see and hear this man who became world-famous in a day.

Service is Real and Really Part of Prest-O-Lite

He had just bought a new car, and at the suggestion of the automobile dealer drove over to the Prest-O-Lite Service Station for the "initial test" of his storage battery.

"What does all this much-advertised Prest-O-Lite service amount to?" he asked. "Is it straight stuff, or is it simply a selling argument for batteries?"

"Straight stuff!" echoed the Service Boys. "We'll say it's straight stuff! Prest-O-Lite service is as real as the Prest-O-Lite storage battery, and it is inseparable from it. You have an example of it beginning right now in the initial test, which guarantees that your car will be started out right. We test the battery, check the electrical wiring of the car, and see if the generator charging rate is too high. If the battery is partially discharged on account of the car's standing idle in the showroom, or through delay in transit, we give it a freshening charge and lend you a service battery while we are doing it."

The superiority of Nu-Bone Cor-

they have which no other corsets can have. This difference is due to the Patented Nu-Bone Stay

Daily Market Report

WILD SELLING IN THE WHEAT MARKET

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Wild selling in the wheat market broke prices 14c today but a complete rally followed. Uneasiness over financial conditions, including a severe decline in sterling exchange had much to do with the selling stampede. Active demand from domestic millers helped to restore values. The market closed nervous 1/2c net lower to one cent advance, with December $2.29 to $2.30 and March $2.32. Corn finished 3/4c off to 1/4c gain, oats unchanged to 1/2c higher and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 3/2c.

For the first time since the resumption of trading in future deliveries the wheat pit was fully occupied by brokers and dealers were on a big scale. Excitement waned after the first half hour. One of the unsettling factors early was gossip that contrary to general expectation the British royal commission had not renewed its buying operations in the United States. Other countries were said later to have purchased to a liberal extent. Talk of Canadian crop damage together with the apparent increased gravity of European diplomatic and military developments had a bullish effect also toward the last.

OFFICERS HERE WITH PRISONER

Indiana Sheriff Taking Back Man Charged With Car Theft—Were Driving Car Thru.

Sheriff Carr of Richmond, Ind., accompanied by Edward McNelly, chief of detectives of that city, were in Jacksonville, Wednesday on their way home from the west. They went to Bloomington, Neb., to apprehend Lee Lansford, a resident of Richmond, who was charged with the theft of an automobile.

They arrested Lansford in the western city and he readily agreed to return with them to Indiana without extradition papers. It seems that Lansford had acquired the automobile by making a small payment, that there was a mortgage on the machine and that he had no right to take it beyond the limits of the state. The officers found the car, although it was comparatively new, in a bad condition. It was necessary to buy two new tires and to have some work done on the engine before the journey to Richmond could be started. There was trouble en route and Sheriff Carr said yesterday that by the time the automobile reaches Richmond that the expense of the trip will have run up to a very high figure.

MISS JANE YOUNG IS BRIDE OF DR. OLMSTED

Jacksonville Young Woman Weds St. Louis Physician in Impressive Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Jane Young of this city and Dr. W. H. Olmsted of St. Louis was solemnized at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rebecca J. Young, 513 West State street.

Only immediate relatives and friends were witnesses to the impressive ceremony, as it was performed by Dr. E. B. Lanis, pastor of Westminster church. The ring service was used. The bride and groom being unattended except by Louise Jenkinson, the little ring bearer.

Before the ceremony Miss Clara C. Moore played a violin solo "Memento Musical" by Kreisler. Then Miss Ainslie Moore sang with fine effect Aylward's "Beloved, It is Morn." Following the ceremony Miss Moore gave a violin number, "Serenade" by Tiers. The three numbers made an especially beautiful program.

Mrs. Olmsted has for several years been a member of the faculty of the central institution for the deaf at St. Louis. Prior to this period she was in like work in New York City, Newark, N. J., and the Illinois School for the deaf. Special training work made it possible for Mrs. Olmsted to hold positions of more than usual responsibility. It can be said with truth that the bride in this marriage service belongs to one of the old families of Jacksonville, and it is equally true that the groom's family has long been prominent in St. Louis.

Dr. Olmsted is a son of Mrs. F. S. Olmsted and is a successful physician. He is associated with the faculty of Washington university and the staff of Barnes hospital. After a two weeks' wedding journey Dr. and Mrs. Olmsted will establish their home in St. Louis.

Among relatives here for this wedding event were Mrs. F. S. Olmsted and Miss Esther Olmsted of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Mrs. Percy A. Jenkinson and daughter and daughter, Louise of Minneapolis; Miss Clara Russell of St. Louis and Miss Eleanor Russell of Crystal Springs, Iowa.

Social Events

Mrs. Grace Wood Hostess To Missionary Society

Mrs. Grace Wood was hostess to the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of Union Baptist church of Pisgah at her home near Murrayville Wednesday. There was a large attendance of members, sixty two being present for the meeting which was an all day affair.

The ladies motored to the Wood home in the morning and a most profitable day was spent. The regular business meeting was held and Mrs. Ella Samples read a paper and Miss Lois Wood gave a vocal selection.

SEEK TO BREAK CAPT SWALES' WILL

Suit is Brought by W. O. Swales Against Mrs. Myrtle Freeman to Whom All Estate Was Bequeathed.

In the circuit court yesterday William O. Swales, by his attorneys, Wilson and Butler, brought a suit against his sister, Myrtle S. Freeman, in which he seeks to have the will of his father, the late James M. Swales, set aside. It is shown in the bill that Capt. Swales died on the 12th day of May, 1920, and that subsequently a document purporting to be his will and testament bearing date of April 29, 1920, was placed on file in the office of the county clerk.

The only heirs at law of Capt. Swales were his daughter, Myrtle S. Freeman, who was named executrix of the will, and his son, William O. Swales, who is the complainant in this proceeding. By the terms of the will the testator bequeathed all of his estate, both real and personal after payment of debts and funeral expenses, to his daughter, Mrs. Freeman.

It is the claim of Mr. Swales that his father was not competent to make a will at the time that the one in question was executed. He further maintains that his sister used undue influence in persuading her father to make such a will. He specifically charges that the will was executed on a certain day after Mrs. Freeman had so managed affairs that no members of Mr. Swales family were at home.

He alleges that Mrs. Freeman secretly procured the writing of the supposed will and the execution thereof. So the suit has been brought by which the complainant hopes to have the will set aside and declared null and void.
